

Sofia Condominium New York, New York

Beginning life as an automated parking garage, Sofia Condominium was for many decades also fireproof storage before its conversion to residences. Its rich Egyptian Revival architectural flourishes continue to inspire, and Walter Sedovic Architects provides a deft hand in developing myriad restoration projects across its facades, exterior envelope & penthouse, with ongoing consultation regarding interiors, systems & operations.

